Dear FTC:

Please see enclosed letter to Matthews Bronze. It's my response to their dismissal of me as a customer. The vast majority of the 17 False Advertising Complaints I have filed with you have been customers of theirs, often using Matthews as their sole supplier. They've obviously coerced Matthews into their decision, which would make them a cartel.

You've previously effectively demonstrated that you don't care if people advertise falsely. Do you care if they have created a cartel? They are illegal after all. Is this now enough of a "pattern of possible violations" for you? Please forward this to a more responsible agency if you're aware of one.

Thank You,
